"Cyberbully" Email Leads Huntington Official To Resign

Huntington public safety director Peter Sammis resigned last Monday, Feb. 10th, after public report of a vulgar email he sent about a female town employee.

Council members Joan Cergol and Mark Cuthbertson announced Sammis's resignation at a press conference on Feb. 11th that they called to denounce the email and the way it was handled by the administration.

email from a reporter.

Sammis sent the email at the end of November. He was initially penalized in the form of a two-week suspension which he began serving at the end of January. Joan Cergol learned of the Cergol has questioned how the administration of Town Supervisor Chad Lupinacci has handled the matter. Although not sent to the woman it characterized inappropriately, Sammis' email was sent to two mail Huntington employees. "The email constituted an aggressive and highly inappropriate act of cyberbully, sexually objectifying and disparaging a female employee that should be unacceptable in anyone's book," Cergol said at Tuesday's press conference. "The employees who received the email from their superior were placed in a highly difficult position not of their choosing, and in addition to the subject female, were, in effect, victimized by the act."

Cergol asked at the press conference

why Town Board members weren't notified of the issue, and why Sammis wasn't penalized until January.

Sammis' email was in response to one sent by the town public information officer, Cuthbertson said, about a video of a pilot program to allow leashed dogs Heckscher Park. His reply was then flagged by the town's IT software, which identifies crude or inappropriate language.

Councilman Edmund Smyth was the only member of the board who said he knew about the email before last week. He has stated he believed the matter was being addressed by the administration.

Cergol and Cuthbertson both said that the Town Board had authority to hire and fire at-will employees and should have known about the matter and been involved in decisions about the situation. The administration "sought to hide behind words such as 'confidential' and 'personnel' which enabled bad judgment. This should have been a collaborative decision," Cuthbertson said.

Town Supervisor Chad Lupinacci said Tuesday afternoon, "We take matters like this very seriously. The employee was dealt with harshly, immediately, and in a manner consistent with the advice of our Director of Personnel and outside labor counsel, who also advised that the Town Board's involvement in disciplinary action was not warranted. I would remind my colleagues that outing the alleged subject of the email, and not respecting her privacy, was completely inappropriate and initiated the victimization of this employee, who was not aware of this incident before town officials ran to the press with it, which is exactly the reason why it is our policy not to comment on personnel mat-

On Feb. 12, State Senator Jim

(D-Northport) Gaughran's announced via email he would introduce state legislation "that will strengthen reporting requirements for sexual harassment complaints and violations of the Human Rights Law."

As of Monday, Feb. 17, the Town of Huntington Website continues to list Peter Sammis as the Director of the Public Safety Department. However, the Department is currently being lead by Joseph Cirigliano, who was appointed Deputy Director at a meeting of the Huntington Town Board on Feb. 11th.

Water Commissioners' Elects 2020 Board

At a recent meeting held by Nassau Suffolk Water Commissioners' Association (NSWCA), the Association elected incoming President William Schuckmann of Water Hicksville District, as well as other Board members, for the 2020 term. Among those elected was Patricia Peterson of Locust Valley Water District.

"The commissioners from the 21 districts who make up our organization have been elected by voters to represent their best interests in the supply of our water," President Schuckmann stated. "Given the great public concern along with the talents and dedication of this new NSWCA Board, I am confident that 2020 will be a successful year meeting the challenges of production and compliance as well as campaigning on behalf of sustainability, conservation and protecting the health of our aquifer, We will continue our efforts to keep the public updated through our

Northport Veterans'

Shelter to Reopen

Tom Suozzi and Lee Zeldin announced that United Veterans Beacon House (UVBH) has been awarded a 5-year contract to operate the homeless shelter in Building 11 at the Northport VA Medical Center. It is anticipated that the Building 11 shelter will reopen in Building 11 was closed in January 2018 due to stress on its heating system. Additional repairs, for further deficiencies and to bring compliance with current housing requirements, extended the period of closure. The VA decision during this period to terminate the on-site contract with Beacon House and require reapplication further complicated attempts to reopen the facility.

"It's about time that this important housing for homeless veterans will be reopened," said Congressman Suozzi. "Director Sanchez, in the short time that he's been at the Northport VA, has managed to push this through the bureaucracy. It is a welcome success to have Beacon House back online."

Beacon House, the non-profit entity that has been awarded the contract to operate Building 11, also managed the Building 11 at the Northport VA Medical Center is a 50-bed facility that offers veterans in need both housing and comprehensive services to facilitate a return to independent living. According to its Facebook page, it was first opened in May of 2016.

"Building 11 provides a critical service for our local veterans," said Congressman Zeldin. "After countless meetings, phone calls, visits to Northport and other outreach, this news, while long-overdue, is encouraging for our local veteran's community, and all who rely on the services provided at Northport when transitioning back into civilian life."

NY American Water Sues Oyster Bay

New York American Water (NYAW) has filed a new lawsuit against Nassau County, Oyster Bay Town and the North Shore School District, arguing that "illegal" miscalculations led it to overpay property taxes for a half decade. The legal action mirrors suits filed by the company in 2018 and 2019 that took issue with how taxes were calculated in its Sea Cliff serv-

NYAW is seeking unspecified refunds for tax years 2015-16 through 2019-20. The suit claims the taxing districts didn't properly account for the demolition of a Glenwood Landing power plant in calculating taxes.

In a statement to Long Island's Newsday, NYAW spokeswoman Lee

Mueller said, "This mistake has been carried over each year since that time," and the company is "simply preserving its right to refunds for each year that the illegally calculated tax rates are used to impose taxes in these jurisdictions."

NYAW has long argued that disproportionately high taxes are the bulk of the reason for spiking water rates for its roughly 120,000 Nassau customers. NYAW stateapproved rate hikes have generated protests at public hearings.

New York American Water's lawsuit asks for certain sections of Nassau County tax law to be declared unconstitutional, and seeks injunctions barring the county from relying on the erroneous calculations and equal protection under the law.

HONORING GEORGE WASHINGTON

This February 22nd marks the 288th anniversary of the birth of George Washington. He was a surveyor, a military officer, a parliamentarian, a successful businessman and planter, a man of letters - and of action - and he was truly the essential man, without whom the founding of the United States of America would never have happened.

Washington was born into a wealthy plantation family, and lost his father when he was only 11 years old. His upbringing then fell upon his brother, Lawrence Washington, who introduced George to military training and administration. George played heroic roles during Britain's long struggle against France for mastery of North America. He also became extremely wealthy - acquiring thousands of acres and hundreds of slaves - and was repeatedly elected to the Virginia colonial legislature - the House of Burgesses. There he became increasingly critical of Britain's tyranny over the American colonies.

This background became critical when war broke out in 1774 between Britain and increasing numbers of Americans. Washington could have ignored the rebellions. Instead he embraced them, and in so doing was labeled a traitor by the British, and risked losing everything. And what a difference he made:

Washington took the lead in training and equipping the ragtag colonial militias - often at his own personal expense - into the Continental Army today's US military. In 1775 he commanded the siege of Boston - driving out the occupying British army, in early 1776. The British then bested him in the Battle of Long Island - taking New York - before Washington finished the year by taking his army across the frozen Delaware River on Christmas Day to defeat the British at Trenton.

Five more years of grueling war would follow, with Washington being the great abiding leader at the head of the American forces. When the war was won, Washington resigned, establishing clear civilian control of the military.

When the new American republic faced a crisis of governance, Washington came back to chair the Constitutional Convention, to establish a Republic with strong institutional structures - and separation of powers to prevent tyranny. He then served as America's first President - presiding over the enactment of the Bill of Rights, and resigning after two terms to prevent the creation of a monarchy - or Presidency for life.

Our nearly 250 year old Republic - and the protection of the freedoms we continue to have - can all be credited to the work of George Washington. His accomplishments and legacy are the epitome of greatness. Let us all remember and honor him.

DREDGING QUESTION

To the Editor;

The letter printed in last week's Leader by commercial clammer Al Samek about Friends of the Bay's refusal to take a stand on the contentious issue of hydraulic dredging in Oyster Bay by Frank M. Flower & Sons did not accurately reflect the organization's position. We welcome the opportunity to clarify that.

Our only concern is the health of the bay. The Friends board and staff have spent a great deal of time studying the dredging issue. We have attended presentations by both Flower and the North Oyster Bay Baymen's Association on the effects of hydraulic dredging. Our leadership met again recently with the leaders of NOBBA. We have collected piles of scientific reports presented by both sides.

Unfortunately, all of the scientific evidence presented by both sides provides compelling but totally conflicting arguments about the impact of hydraulic dredging on the Oyster Bay ecos ecosystem. And adding to the confusion is the fact that none of the studies have actually looked at Oyster Bay.

Because of the conflicting evidence, Friends of the Bay's board has never been comfortable taking a position on hydraulic dredging. We have explained our reasoning repeatedly to Flower, NOBBA, government leaders and others.

A $75,000 study arranged by State Senator James Gaughran that will look at siltation caused by hydraulic dredging in Oyster Bay may provide enough scientific evidence for Friends of the Bay and other stakeholders and interested parties to get a clearer picture of what's going on in the bay. We have urged the senator to arrange for the Department of Environmental Conservation to convene as soon as possible a scoping meeting of all the stakeholders to make sure the study parameters are acceptable to all the players so that the end results will have more credibility. If the study makes a compelling case that hydraulic dredging is harmful to the bay's ecosystem, that might allow Friends of the Bay to finally take a position on the issue.

But it's also possible that the limited funding and scope of the project will result in its findings being only a partial response to the larger question that still needs to be answered. Ultimately, the overall effects of shellfish aquaculture and the overall health of the harbor need to be studied, with the findings encompassed in a bay management plan.

But, in the meantime, without more scientific evidence about whether hydraulic dredging damages the Oyster Bay ecosystem, it's irresponsible for us to take a stand.

> Bill Bleyer, President, Friends of the Bay

For the 10th consecutive year, Gribbin Elementary School in Glen Cove took part in the Souper Bowl of Caring food drive. Students, faculty and staff collected 207 pounds of non-perishable food items over a two-week period.

The Souper Bowl of Caring is a youth-led movement that works with schools, churches, local businesses, individuals, and NFL teams in the weeks leading up to the Super Bowl to help generate food and resources at time of year when charities are reporting a decrease in donations. The Gribbin School donated 100% of the collected food items to the food pantry at the Church of St. Rocco.

Town Board Funds Huntington's Projects

At its February 11 meeting, the Huntington Town Board approved funding for a spray park at Manor Field Park, moved to designate Bread and Cheese Hollow Road as an Historic Landmark, and scheduled public hearings for the March 10 and May 20 Town Board meetings.

The Town Board approved various infrastructure funding, including up to $750,000 to build a spray park at Manor Field Park, part of Supervisor Chad A. Lupinacci's plans for the revitalization of Huntington Station. A spray park is one in which children can cool off and play in jets and streams of water.

The Town Board approved numerous other infrastructure expenditures. These included $6,200,000 in funding for road and traffic safety rehabilitation measures for 2020; $1,500,000 in funding for improvements at the Flanagan Center, which houses the Town's Senior Center, Adult Day Care and Youth Bureau including $1,000,000 for the construction of pedestrian, vehicle safety and accessibility improvements to and for the replacement of a portion of the roof at the Flanagan Center.

The Town Board also voted to approve funding for Highway Department equipment, information technology upgrades and equipment, vehicles past their useful lifespan, and improvements at Manor Field Park and Heckscher Park.

Other Board actions at the meeting included amending the Traffic Code to omit the option of a payment plan and requiring full payment of all outstanding penalties, fines, fees, and charges related to all parking violations, and appointing Joshua C. Price, Esq. as Director of the new Bureau of Administrative Adjudication. Mr. Price who is a 19-year Huntington resident, and founder of the Price Law Firm in Manhattan, will be the first Chief Administrative Law Judge in the Town's history.

Glen Cove United Celebrates Black History Month

BY OLIVIA EVERETT

The fourth annual Black History Scholarship Celebration was held during Black History Month, by Glen Cove United, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, and hosted by Rod Watson and Damary Mercardo. The honorees were the Rev. Dr. Craig Wright, Harriet Downer, Downes Garner and Sherene Collins. The diversity of Glen Cove was evident in the support from the local community and surrounding neighborhoods.

Rod Watson welcomed the guests, and told how he decided to start an event which honored the contributions of Black people of the community, while also raising scholarship funds for Black High School students. He mentioned the late James Davis, who had marched with Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and had stated the symbolic march and program that has continued every year in Glen Cove for thirty six years, now under the guidance of Davis' daughter, Sheryl Goodine.

Among the guests were Glen Cove City Council members Dr Eve Lupenko-Ferrante, Marsha Silverman, John Perrone, Danielle Fugazy-Scagliola, Rocco Totino and Gaitley Stevenson-Matthews, and Nassau County Legislator Delia DeRiggi-Whitton.

Black History Month

By Victoria R. Crosby

If I were to name every Black person who had made a contribution to the world, and to our community, for the greater good of our society, we would be here all night and into next week, so without further ado I will speak.

America is a country of immigrants, a melting pot, except of course for the people whose ancestors were brought here by force.
From slavery to freedom great strides have been made,
yet for this progress, a great price has been paid.
And history seems to have forsaken the indigenous people from whom this land was taken.

Tonight we celebrate and honor the accomplishments of the great African Americans who are artists and activists, doctors and scientists, dancers, inventors and politicians, astronauts, athletes and mathematicians.

Mae Jamison was the first Black female astronaut who flew in The Endeavor in 1992.

Rosa Parks, MLK,
Maya Angelou, and Sidney Poitier.
Poets and writers, and the Harlem Hell Fighters.
Television actors and movie stars,
with Hollywood mansions and exotic cars.
Celebrities like Oprah and Denzel, who make us feel that we know them well.
Madame Walker, and Annie Malone, were both Black women who made fortunes of their own

Arthur Ashe, Malcolm X, and Queen Latifa, Ashanti, Wendy Williams, Venus and Serena.

Tuskegee Airmen and players of sports on football fields and basketball courts.
Ballerina Misty Copeland, who in 2015 was one of the 100 Most Influential People in Time Magazine Opera singers, Jessye Norman, Kathleen Battle and Leotyne Price,
Jordan Greenway, who plays hockey on ice,
the first Black player on the US Olympic team.
This young man is living his dream.

Scott Joplin, Billy Holiday, Nina Simone,
Wynton Marsalis, Miles Davis and Quincy Jones.
President Obama, Andre Watts, Beyonce and Ben E King, and so many more Black celebrities whose praises I could sing.
So if the name of your favorite I did not mention, please don't be offended, as that was not my intention.

We pay tribute to all of these people, and to all the honorees, past and present, and especially tonight we honor the Rev. Dr. Craig Wright,
Sherene Collins, Damon Garner and Harriet Downer, and to Rod Watson who initiated this celebration with Damary Mercardo, we thank them all for their dedication

Raynham Hall's Valentine Bal Rouge

By Victoria Crosby

Raynham Hall Valentine's Day "Bal Rouge" was held this year at the Muttontown Country Club honoring Assemblyman Charles (Chuck) Lavine and Senator Carl Marcellino. Guests were greeted at the front door of the mansion by Michael Goudket, a volunteer at Raynham Hall, in striking colonial costume. There were tables filled with silent auction prizes, from items of clothing, handbags jewelry and many other luxury items. Guests enjoyed cocktails and hors d'oeuvres while perusing and bidding on the many auction items. Guests could add their names, with a donation to Raynham Hall, to the guest list for dinner, lunch or afternoon tea, with hosts who had graciously offered their homes and hospitality.

Although the invitation requested festive attire in shades of red, many ladies were wearing black, some were in cocktail dresses and some in gowns, but all looked stunning.

In the dining room the tables had all been decorated by designers, each one spectacular, and each one different. Beautiful music was performed on the grand piano by Oyster Bay resident John Schwartzberg.

Following a delicious dinner, Harriet Gerard Clark presented the honorees with their awards. Assemblyman Chuck Lavine, who attended with his wife Ronni, spoke of the years that he and Senator Marcellino had worked together, and that although they didn't always agree, as they represent different political parties, but they remain good friends. When Senator Marcellino spoke, he said he agreed with everything Chuck Lavine had said!

Then the live auction took place with Mike Taglich acting as auctioneer. There were nine items, including a one week stay for twenty-four people in Eleuthera. A five hour cruise for ten people on a forty-four foot power boat, golf outings at the Country Clubs, Piping Rock, Old Westbury, and the Creek. Also a Yoshino cherry tree, to be planted on the winner's property, four tickets to see Sleeping Beauty at the Met, with dinner at the Grand Tier restaurant, and two tickets to Plaza Suite with dinner at the Harvard Club.

Dancing in the Oak Room followed.
Each guests was given a jar of La Selva honey as they left. The journal which also doubled as a paddle for the auction, was filled with beautiful ads, photographs and portraits of a bygone era.

The Georgian style mansion which serves as The Muttontown Club's distinctive clubhouse was originally constructed by Howard Crosby Brokaw in 1919 and took five years to complete. It became known as "The Chimneys" because of the twenty six fireplaces and thirteen chimneys which are spread through the forty four room mansion. The club was purchased in 1960. Frances Ford Seymour married George Brokaw in 1931, after his death she married actor Henry Fonda, and they lived there with their children Jane and Peter.

Obituaries

D'AMBROSIO, Filippo Antonio was born on October 1, 1945 in Sturno, Italy to Mariano and Carmella D'Ambrosio. He moved to Gesualdo where he lived with his siblings; Rosa, Pasquale, and Giusepina. One of his proudest moments was serving in the Italian army.

He married his love Nina, in 1969 and they immigrated to the United States where they settled in Glen Cove, New York. He established his own successful painting contracting company on Long Island, which resulted in many lifelong friendships.

Together they had three children; Danny, Jerry and Diane. Filippo loved his family and was always there to support them in everything they did. He was so proud of his children's accomplishments and loved his daughter-in-laws and sonin-law, Kelly, Cynthia, and Dylan like they were his own children. What brought him the most joy was the birth of his seven grandchildren; Isabelle, Philip, Sara, Philip, Michael, Nina, and Andrew. He loved to make them laugh and tell them stories about his childhood in Italy.

Anyone who knew him knew how much he loved people. His ability to connect and create meaningful relationships was his gift. He never said goodbye, whether in person or on the phone, without telling you how much he loved you. In the last few years, he began texting. Daily he texted family and friends wishing them a great day and telling them he loved them.

He also loved and served the Lord faithfully. He instilled that love for God in his children and his faith never wavered.

Fresh Energy for the Oyster Bay Rotary Club

(l-r) President Carl Marcellino, Gina Weinberg, with Judy Wasilchuk, RotaryTreasurer

By Dagmar Fors Karppi

Just talking to Gina Weinberg leaves you invigorated. A newly installed Rotary member, she is looking forward to working on the Oyster Festival. She has come with enthusiasm, new ideas and a willingness to work.

Weinberg explained her decision to join Rotary, as she was inducted on Feb. 5. "Last year our local parents group, on Facebook was made aware that the Oyster Festival was in danger of being cancelled. It was upsetting to many of us who know the importance of this event to our schools. Since Rotary club runs the event, I decided to attend a meeting and see what they were about. I was pleasantly surprised at all the amazing things the Oyster Bay Rotary club does in our area. I decided to join so I could give back and help the community."

She comes with great credentials. "As a past treasurer of both the OBEN elementary and High school PTA, I know the importance of this one event and what it means to our schools and nonprofits in the area. I think it is a great thing to be able to give some of my time, effort and resources to help others and hopefully make a difference in our communi-

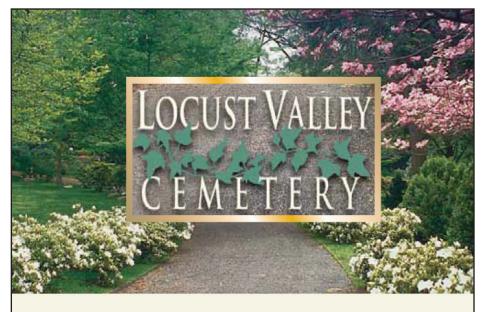

Walter Imperatore, who is cochairing the festival again, said, "Gina is a breath of fresh air and energy." Her first meeting as a member was just what she was interested in as the members were discussing how to improve and maintain the festival. Ideas flowed and suggestions were made. Weinberg is taking a studied interest in the event, already attending the festival committee meetings and said she is looking forward to helping Beverly Zembko, food court chair, in any way she can.

Three days after Weinberg was inducted, Rotary President Senator Carl Marcellino was honored along with Assemblyman Chuck Levine by the Friends of Raynham Hall at their Bal Rouge held at the Muttontown Club. "They were instrumental in getting grants for our education annex. When completed, it will be a visitor's center where children can begin their field trips here," said Theresa Skvarla, RHM assistant director.

"It was a bi-partisan thank you," commented Patricia Marcellino.

4 LVHS Seniors Named National Merit Finalists

National Merit Finalists(l-r): Locust Valley High School seniors Michelle Hsu, Nina Cialone, Nitha Paulas and Michael DiSpirito were named National Merit finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Program.

Four Locust Valley High School seniors have been named National Merit finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Program, sponsored by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. It is exceptional that the high school has four finalists, as the College Board bestows this honor upon less than 1% of high school seniors nationwide each year.

Nina Cialone, Michael DiSpirito, Michelle Hsu and Nitha Paulus were recognized as semifinalists in September for achieving exceptional scores on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. Out of the 1.5 million seniors that took the PSAT, the four Locust Valley students are among only 15,000 nationwide to be named finalists. Each semifinalist had to prove that they had high academic achievements throughout high school and had to earn a score on the Scholastic Aptitude Test that was consistent with their high PSAT scores.

Locust Valley High School Principal

Patrick DiClemente said the school's finalists are exceptional individuals. "These four students are bright, articulate and outstanding students who have had a positive impact at our high school, and each is certain to have a successful future," he said. "Their families and our entire school community should be proud of their successes and the accomplishment of having four finalists in one year at a school the size of Locust Valley High School."

The College Board shares the names of finalists with colleges and universities, and they now become eligible to receive scholarships of $10,000 toward their college educations. These scholarships can come from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, corporate sponsors or the universities the finalists attend. Scholarship winners will be announced in June.

Congratulations to Nina, Michael, Michelle and Nitha on this outstanding achievement!

View Grill Hosts Fundraiser for Australia Zoo Wildlife Hospital

A poster for the event.

Chef Jeanine and the View Grill will be hosting a fundraiser to benefit the Australia Zoo Wildlife Hospital.

The fundraiser will take place on Saturday, February 29, 2020 at the View Grill located at 111 Lattingtown Road in Glen Cove beginning at 7:00pm

Your donation of $50.00 will include a buffet dinner with cash bar, DJ and dancing to your favorite music from the 60's, 70's and 80's and most of all a fun evening with friends while doing a great deed.

The Australia Zoo Wildlife Hospital is located on the property of the Australia Zoo. The zoo was founded by the late Steve Irwin and his wife Terri in 2002. Its mission is to rescue and rehabilitate wildlife. Over the last couple of months, the hospital has been overcome with patients due to the wild bush fires ravaging Australia. According to ecologists at the University of Sydney over a billion animals have perished. For injured animals the hospital is working around the clock to give Australia's animals the best chance of survival. " It is heart-breaking to read about the wildfires day after day and its devastating impact on Australia's wildlife, I feel the need to be proactive and by hosting a fundraiser I know it will give me and others the opportunity to help," said Chef Jeanine.

Legal Notices

NOTICE OF ADOPTION VILLAGE OF CENTRE ISLAND LOCAL LAW 1-2020

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Trustees of the Incorporated Village of Centre Island, Nassau County, New York, at a meeting of said Board duly called and held on February 12, 2020, at which a quorum was present and voting, after due notice, adopted Local Law 1-2020, entitled, "Extension of Moratorium upon new requests for helicopter landings and take-offs and helipads within the Village of Centre Island," which reads as

BE IT ENACTED by the Board of Trustees of the Incorporated Village of Centre Island as follows:

SECTION 1. The provisions of Local Law 2-2019 are re-adopted and reaffirmed for an additional six (6) month period as set forth below.

ARTICLE I. Legislative Intent and Purpose:

Under the provision of Local Law 2-2019 duly adopted on May 7, 2019, the Board of Trustees hereby finds as follows:

- 1) That the use of property for the landing or taking-off of helicopters or other aircraft within the Village of Centre Island can constitute a nuisance, creating unacceptable noise and disruption to the quiet use and enjoyment of property reasonably expected by Village residents. It is the purpose and intent of this moratorium to prohibit new landing or taking-off of helicopters/aircraft within the Village as a means of transportation other than as an accessory use of residential premises under the conditions stated below as specifically associated with the health, safety and welfare of Village residents.
- 2) The possible potential impacts and adverse effects of an increase in the number of helipad development on the Village, its residents, and the surrounding environment warrant a current review of the regulations on helipads and landings and take-offs to ensure that the future growth and development of the Village is properly addressed and adequately provided for.
- 3) It is the intent of the Board of Trustees to continue its review of the requirements and regulations for helipads, landings and take-offs in the Village and the purpose of this law to provide a temporary moratorium from new requests for helipads or for helicopters landing and taking-off in the Village while this review is being conducted. The temporary suspension of new helipads and helicopters landing and taking-off will prevent unnecessary and irreparable destruction or damage to the physical elements of the Village, protect its water resources, preserve the existing quality of life and property values in the Village, and secure the health, safety and general welfare of the community while the review is being conducted.
- 4) The Board finds that a temporary prohibition of new requests for helipads or new requests to have helicopters land or take-off in the Village, and prohibiting the Building Inspector and other agencies of the Village from considering any such request is appropriate. This temporary action will accomplish the Village's objectives that future helicopter use in the Village will be compatible with and not in conflict with any update or future amendment to the Village's Code or other local laws resulting from the

In extending the Moratorium on, "New Requests for Helicopter Landings and Takeoffs" imposed by Local Law 2-2019, the Board of Trustees further finds as follows:

(a) it is the purpose of this law to provide a further temporary moratorium on the suspension of new helipads and helicopters landing and taking-off within the Village to allow the study to be concluded and all consultant's recommendations be considered and implemented. Until this study is concluded, it is important that the moratorium imposed by Local Law 2-2019 be extended to insure will prevent unnecessary and irreparable destruction or damage to the physical elements of the Village, protect its water resources, preserve the existing quality of life and property values in the Village, and secure the health, safety and general welfare of the community.

ARTICLE II. Moratorium

Section 1. Effective immediately and continuing for a period ending August 14, 2020, no new requests for a helipad or request to have a helicopter land or take-off in the Village of Centre Island shall be processed or considered by the Village. Existing helipads and the landing and take-off of helicopters having all the necessary local, state and federal approvals presently existing may continue during this period.

Section 2. The Board of Trustees may, by resolution, terminate this moratorium prior to its expiration, or alternatively, extend the moratorium provided for an additional ninety (90) day period, as the Board of Trustees, in its sole discretion, deems necessary to allow the review to be completed

Section 3. In the event that this local law causes a severe and substantial financial hardship to any property owner, an application may be made in writing to the Board of Trustees requesting an exemption from the provisions of this law. The Board of Trustees may grant such exemption where, in its sole discretion, the Board of Trustees determines financial hardship exists as a result of the application of the provisions of this law. If an application is granted, the Board of Trustees may impose any conditions it deems reasonable or necessary.

ARTICLE III.

If any section, provision or part of this local law shall be adjudged invalid or unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction, then such adjudication shall not affect the validity of the local law as a whole or any section, provision or part thereof not so adjudged invalid or unconstitutional.

SECTION 2. This local law shall take effect upon the filing with the Secretary of State.

SECRETS OF NASSAU COUNTY
Lecture and Book Signing with Richard Panchyk
Sunday, February 23, at 3:00 PM

Nassau County has transitioned from a series of quiet farming communities to a hub for industry, a playground for the rich, a training ground for soldiers heading to war, and a cradle for the nascent aviation industry that was to result in the most famous flight in the nation's history. Much has changed over time in Nassau County--farms have vanished, new highways have been built, historic buildings and sites have been obliterated, and housing developments and shopping centers of all types and sizes have sprung up. Enjoy a lecture and book signing with author Richard Panchyk and learn about what is in our own backyards! Refreshments served. $5 non members/$10 members

FREE ADMISSION

Wednesdays 1:00-5:00 PM and

Saturdays 11:00-3:00 PM in February. For the month of February, the North Shore Historical Museum of Glen Cove has waived admission so all may visit to see the a curated edition of our Fall 2018 exhibit on the World War I 369th Infantry Regiment, popularly known as the "Harlem Hellfighters."

The Harlem Hellfighters were an African-American army unit in World War I which spent more time in combat than any other American unit. 31 of these brave men were from the Glen Cove area. 3 of these men were awarded the Croix de Guerre, the French medal for valor. Visits are welcome during our regular hours.
