2020 Heroes

by Victoria R. Crosby

The true heroes of this world-wide crisis of health are not the politicians, who only seek to increase their wealth.

Not the so-called leaders, although there are some who appear to have qualities of leadership and seem sincere, but the doctors, nurses and workers in health care.

The people in supermarkets and food stores who work there.

The restaurants that prepare meals for delivery and take-out

Let's give them all a thank you shout out.

The EMS workers, firefighters and police, postal workers and UPS, without all of them we'd be in a right old mess.

The workers in the field of sanitation, all these people working with great dedication to keep our lives as normal as can be expected, as we try not to become infected.

The neighbors who shop for the immune compromised and the elderly, who may not have realized

the importance of sheltering in place, washing hands, and not touching your face.

Friends who call to check to make sure everyone is fine, or send them an email from time to time.

With grateful hearts we thank you, and want to say you are all our heroes, God Bless you today, and every day.

The North Shore Sheltering Program's Closes Until Next Winter

The North Shore Sheltering Program's season ended on the last day of March, and the board is concerned about the plight of the homeless during the health crisis facing this community and the world.

Many of the other local services have also closed due to the virus, including the soup kitchen, the senior center and other places where homeless could get a meal. The Glen Cove Library is closed, as are many coffee shops, and although the days are getting milder, the weather at night is still cold.

NSSP has been working with the City of Glen Cove to try to establish a method of distributing food to those in need, not just the homeless men of the shelter, but anybody in the community in need, while keeping the six feet distance recommended to "flatten the curve."

The shelter was formed as a non-profit organization over twenty years ago by concerned citizens and members of the clergy, following the deaths of two men from exposure to the elements. NSSP provides between fifteen to twenty-five homeless men each night, with a hot meal and a warm, safe place to sleep. The men are also given breakfast and food to go each morning. The men are provided with medical screening, a sleeping bag socks and toiletries, and there is a shower available.

Food is provided by local individuals, religious and school groups. Through the generous support of the community and receives no government funding. If you would like to volunteer to help or contribute in some way, please visit northshoreshelteringprogram.org

HART Bus Passengers Must Wear Face Masks

Use of Cloth Face Coverings to Help Slow the Spread of COVID-19

How to Wear Cloth Face Coverings

Cloth face coverings should—

- fit snugly but comfortably against the side of the face
- be secured with ties or ear loops
- include multiple layers of fabric
- allow for breathing without restriction
- be able to be laundered and machine dried without damage or change to shape

CDC on Homemade Cloth Face Coverings

CDC recommends wearing cloth face coverings in public settings where other social distancing measures are difficult to maintain (e.g., grocery stores and pharmacies), especially in areas of significant community-based transmission.

CDC also advises the use of simple cloth face coverings to slow the spread of the virus and help people who may have the virus and do not know it from transmitting it to others. Cloth face coverings fashioned from household items or made at home from common materials at low cost can be used as an additional, voluntary public health measure.

Cloth face coverings should not be placed on young children under age 2, anyone who has trouble breathing, or is unconscious, incapacitated or otherwise unable to remove the cloth face covering without assistance.

The cloth face coverings recommended are not surgical masks or N-95 respirators. Those are critical supplies that must continue to be reserved for healthcare workers and other medical first responders, as recommended by current CDC guidance.

Should cloth face coverings be washed or otherwise cleaned regularly? How regularly?

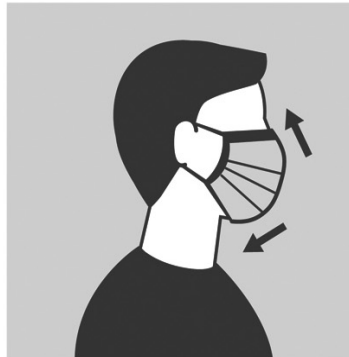

Yes. They should be routinely washed depending on the frequency of use.

How does one safely sterilize/clean a cloth face covering?

A washing machine should suffice in properly washing a cloth face covering.

How does one safely remove a used cloth face covering?

Individuals should be careful not to touch their eyes, nose, and mouth when removing their cloth face covering and wash hands immediately after removing.

Huntington Supervisor Chad Lupinacci directed riders of the Town's Huntington Area Rapid Transit (HART) to all wear face masks. Later that day, Governor Cuomo issued an Executive Order mandating all NY mass transit riders to wear face masks.

Due to the Governor's mandate, residents will not be able to ride trains or buses without a proper face covering.

Lupinacci announced that "do-it-yourself-instructions" on making a face mask, including sew and no-sew instructions, can be found on the Town's website.

Residents are urged to avoid riding mass transit if presenting symptoms or if they meet any of the criteria for exposure; passengers will be denied service if they exhibit any symptoms known to be related to COVID-19.

Since early March 2020, more frequent cleaning and sanitizing efforts have been made to cover the full fleet of HART and NICE busses, and LIRR trains, at least every 72 hours. This includes but is not limited to cleaning and sanitizing all hard surfaces, such as poles, grabrails, fareboxes and door control panels between passengers.

Residents may reach HART at (631) 427-8287 or by email at HARTBus@HuntingtonNY.gov.

Ex-US Rep Greg Carman Passes Away

Former US Congressman, Oyster Bay Councilman and federal Judge Greg Carman passed away last week at the age of 83.

Carman, a Republican, was elected to the US Congress in 1980, as part of Ronald Reagan's historic election sweep. He had previously served two terms as a Councilman of the Town of Oyster Bay.

Carman represented New York's 3rd congressional district - Huntington and the north shore of Oyster Bay - and was noted for his strong support of the Reagan agenda of lower taxes, regulatory reform, and a strong defense against an aggressive Soviet Empire that had just conquered Indochina and Afghanistan. Carman served just one term, and stepped down after 1982 when the state legislature eliminated his congressional district by merging it into neighboring districts.

But President Reagan immediately nominated Carman to the US Court of International Trade - a federal court that deals with customs, import dumping and trade sanctions. Carman once reminisced to the Publisher of the Leader when that he met with Reagan at his nomination, "I joked with him that I thought dumping was what polluters were doing in Long Island Sound..." to a hearty laugh from all around. Carman went on to decide the seminal cases of the Court, and served as the Court's Chief Judge from 1996 to 2003.

Greg Carman

Former congressman John Napier (R-SC) remembered Carman fondly. "Greg will be remembered as a great member of the 'class of 1980' that helped Ronald Reagan change the country's course from excessive domestic spending to defense spending that allowed the initiation of 'Star Wars' and the fall of Communism. The country has lost a true patriot and a disciplined judge, and I have lost a close friend."

Carman is survived by his son, Gregory Carman Jr, who is Deputy Supervisor of the Town of Oyster Bay; his sons John Carman and James Carman; and his daughters Mira Carman, Elizabeth Lancaster, Kathleen Hussey, and Deidre Basile.

No services have been scheduled.

Suozzi Named to US Recovery Panel

Tom Suozzi

US Congressman Tom Suozzi (D-Glen Cove) was named by President Donald Trump to the "Opening Up America Again" Economic Recovery Panel. The commission is charged with designing the policies to revive the US economy after the Corona virus shutdown ends or is lessened next month. Suozzi was one of ten Democrats named by Trump to the bi-partisan national commission.

"We need to create funding formulas that are based on the rate of coronavirus infection and not irrelevant formulas that short New York and Long Island, diverting funding that is desperately needed here and now," stated Suozzi. "Serving on this task force, I will give our region a voice and a fighting chance."

Suozzi also expressed frustration with the implementation of the Paycheck Protection Program that provided $450 billion in loans to businesses, but which saw big publicly-traded firms scooping up the funds.

"Companies looking for $1 million are getting funded. But doctors, dentists and plumbers with small practices looking for $50,000 or $100,000 are hearing, 'Sorry, no more money left,'" stated Suozzi. "Too many banks prioritized existing clients with bigger businesses, and ignored the little guys."

Dead Baby Found in Bayville

The Homicide Squad is investigating the death of a fetus that was discovered and reported to the Nassau County Police on Saturday, April 11, 2020 at 4:50 am in Bayville.

According to detectives, a 38-year-old male was walking his dog at Ferry Beach in the vicinity of Sound Beach Avenue and Bayville Avenue discovered a human fetus inside a plastic bag lying on the beach. Second Precinct Police and a Nassau County Police Medic responded and pronounced the newborn dead. The investigation is continuing.

Stop Sending Corona Patients Back into Nursing Homes

When the Corona pandemic hit New York, Gov Andrew Cuomo issued an Executive Order directing nursing homes, assisted living and senior residences to accept back infected Corona patients. As a result, Corona has gotten-in and decimated New York's seniors. One third of the 15,000 New York deaths to date from Corona have occurred at or through senior facilities.

The Cuomo rationale was that infected seniors needed to be cleared out of hospitals, to make way for new infected patients and "flatten the curve." Except that by injecting infected people into senior facilities, the government has achieved the opposite - infecting thousands of the most vulnerable people - our senior citizens - and consigning them to death.

Instead of putting infected people back in senior facilities, New York should have opened recovery or hospice centers - quarantine facilities - like the underutilized Javits Center or Winthrop Hospital's use of the former Sears property in Garden City, and protected vulnerable seniors living in senior facilities. The Cuomo policy was misguided when the Governor issued it in March. It is nothing short of monstrous - and negligent homicide - for Cuomo to continue the policy today - when treatment facilities like the Javits Center and the USS Comfort lie empty.

USING THE CORONA CRISIS TO IMPOSE A ONE PARTY STATE

A lot of media attention has been given to the authoritarian powers assumed by some foreign governments during the Corona Pandemic. But little attention to the power play by Governor Andrew Cuomo and his one-party Democratic legislature to "reform" the Election Law - and effectively ban New York's minor parties. We used to have eight parties - the two major parties plus long established minor parties like the Conservatives, Greens, and Libertarians. Fusion voting - alliances of minor parties forming coalitions - has elected minor party US Senators (Jim Buckley) and created a competitive party system even in overwhelmingly Democratic New York City.

That is why Cuomo and his gang wanted to kill it. So last month they massively increased the minor party vote threshold to 130,000 votes - and massively increased the petition requirements for parties not qualifying, to permanently keep them off the ballot.

Goodbye Democracy. Goodbye competitive elections. Welcome to the one party state

SUOZZI FOE THE "JUSSIE SMOLLETT OF LONG ISLAND"

To the Editor:

I write in response to the Leader article on one of Congressman Tom Suozzi's opponents - Port Washington "community activist" Melanie D'Arrigo - and her filing fake petition challenges against herself to try to make it look like Suozzi was doing it. This stunt was nothing but a pathetic attempt by Darrigo to fraudulently "play the victim" to get herself attention and garner false sympathy. What a disgrace.

As an attorney, I can tell you that filing false papers with a government office - here the Board of Elections - is a crime. Maybe Darrigo should have consulted an attorney before filing false papers? It doesn't help that when she was caught, she quickly withdrew the petition challenges to herself, and then blamed everyone else - including her "busy work schedule and the Corona pandemic" - for her own political dirty tricks.

The Darrigo fake petition stunt brings to mind another fraudster - the actor Jussie Smollett - who staged a fake racist attack on himself, in order to get attention and sympathy - and try to boost his career. Smollett has now been criminally indicted and faces jail time for filing false papers and staging a fake attack on himself.

Where is our District Attorney Madeline Singas on filing false papers? And this is not a "victimless crime." Other candidates had to hire attorneys and retrieve legal papers from public post offices in the middle of a pandemic to deal with Darrigo's fraud. Maybe Darrigo should now be known as the "Jussie Smollett of Long Island."

London Jewelers Gives Back To Healthcare Workers

Much appreciated meals were delivered.

London Jewelers is proud to announce its #LondonJewelersCares initiative, delivering meals to the courageous staff at North Shore University Hospital, Glen Cove Hospital, LIJ Medical Center, Mount Sinai Hospital, and NYU Medical Center.

As the New York region continues its fight against COVID-19, the brave men and women in our area hospitals are leading the charge. Throughout April and May, London Jewelers will donate a portion of proceeds to supply meals from local restaurants to these heroes fighting to keep us all safe.

“We are so grateful to our first responders and hospital staff risking their lives to take care of others,” said Scott Udell, co-vice president and a fourth-generation member of the London Jewelers family. “We thank them for their bravery and hope to bring them whatever comfort we can with a smile and a hot meal.”

The Udell family, who have owned and operated London Jewelers since 1926, made their first deliveries on Monday, bringing trays of hot food to COVID-19 units at several local hospitals. More deliveries are scheduled each week.

“As a small family-owned business, our goal is to treat everyone in our community like family,” explained Randi

Udell Alper, London Jewelers' co-vice president. “We want our healthcare workers to know they’re in our thoughts and prayers at this difficult time. We are here to show our appreciation and gratitude, and to give back to the communities that have supported London Jewelers for 94 years.”

As an additional show of thanks, London Jewelers is also offering healthcare workers 20% off purchases (with some brand exclusions) on londonjewelers.com

About London Jewelers: As a small family-owned business since 1926, the story of London Jewelers spans more than 90 years, from their original Glen Cove storefront to today’s ever-growing family of fine jewelry and timepiece boutiques across Long Island to Manhattan.

Suozzi Helps the Glen Cove Center for Nursing

Suozzi will survey all senior facilities regarding need in District. Last week delivered 2,500 N95 masks to both Glen Cove and Huntington Hospitals

Today, Congressman Tom Suozzi (D-Long Island, Queens) and two nonprofit Chinese American organizations, working together, delivered more than 1,000 pieces of personal protective equipment (PPE) to the Glen Cove Center for Nursing and Rehabilitation to assist the center’s staff as they help stop the spread of COVID-19. The donation consisted of protective coverall gowns (75 pieces), goggles (150 pieces), face shields (150 pieces), disposable hats (300 pieces), and N95 face masks (500 pieces).

“In addition to flattening the curve and stopping the spread, we need to ensure that our health care workers and first responders have ample access to personal protective equipment (PPE)”, said Suozzi. “I want to thank Gordon Zhang and LICAA for their ongoing charitable work, providing necessary protective gear for our front-line workers. Additionally, special thanks to Syosset High School student, Sabrina Guo, for spearheading a campaign to help stem the spread of this pandemic. We are truly #StrongerTogether.”

The donation was a collaborative effort with the Long Island Chinese American Association (LICAA), which has already donated PPE to more than 20 hospitals and organizations across Long Island and Long Island Laboring Against COVID-19 (LILAC), a GoFundMe campaign organized by Syosset High School freshman, Sabrina Guo.

Saladino, Lupinacci - "Extend Property Tax Deadlines"

Oyster Bay Supervisor Joe Saladino and Huntington Supervisor Chad Lupinacci, have both asked state officials for a waiver to extend their towns' Property Tax Payment deadlines until the summer.

Saladino was able to secure an interim Order from the Governor's office extending the tax filing deadline from May 11th to June 11th. The only penalty for late payment will be a 75 cent processing fee for on-line payments made through Oyster Bay's new e-portal.

"Oyster Bay has been inundated with requests from residents to postpone the school property tax deadline," stated Saladino. "The extension is warranted by the indisputable fact that we really do not know how long this pandemic will continue."

In Huntington, Lupinacci and his Town colleagues have requested a property tax payment deadline extension to August 1st.

"On March 26th, I requested an Executive Order from the Governor and the County Executive that would permit residents to pay the second half of their property taxes as late as August 1st without any penalties. On April 10th, the Town sent a second letter to the Suffolk County Executive with this request. We will keep the public updated with further guidance," stated Lupinacci.

Many residents are now unemployed or not receiving income from their businesses, and need an extension to the property tax payment deadline. The Towns do not have the power to delay the date, without intervention by New York State and Suffolk County.

Friends of the Bayville Free Library continue to replenish the very popular small lending libraries with new and interesting books. During this 'sheltering in place' these libraries have obviously played a large role in the residents lives, for the books have been literally flying out of the structure. The Friends are also grateful for the many notes of thanks left for them to read. We are all in this together and the Friends will continue to do their part by providing many good books to help pass the time somewhat easier.

Thank You Glen Cove Hospital

A sign at the Gibson home.

By VICTORIA SIEGEL

Kathy Gibson of Bayville expressed her gratitude to Glen Cove Hospital after spending 31 days in their excellent care by placing a sign in the front window of her home thanking them. Ms. Gibson was hospitalized for a past health issue that required surgery and rehab. During her stay, New York State was hit with the Covid-19, Ms. Gibson stated that although the hospital was dealing with the pandemic, the level of her care never suffered--it was excellent and continued to be. Care was taken to isolate the patients. Ms. Gibson also wondered out loud as to what the situation would have been if seven years ago the plan to close Glen Cove Hospital would have succeeded. Kathy Gibson attended all the rallies that were held in Glen Cove and Bayville to make people aware of the plan and what it would mean to more than the 75,000 people who live on the peninsula to be served by the hospital.

Former Mayor Ralph Suozzi of Glen Cove headed the Glen Cove committee to Save Glen Cove Hospital and Former Mayor Victoria Siegel of Bayville along with Michele Principe, Pastor David Cziel of the Village Church of Bayville, and Judith Sniffen comprised the Bayville Committee.

Later on these committees were joined by Assemblyman Michael Montesano, Assemblyman Charles Lavine, State Senator Carl Marcellino, Doctor Holm Andersen, and Doctor Eric Hochberg. Enough to say that after much work in which many participated, the hospital is here and many along with Ms. Gibson are happy that it is. Welcome Home Kathy.

YOUTH OF THE YEAR

Since 1947, the Youth of the Year has been Boys & Girls Clubs of America's premier recognition program, celebrating the extraordinary achievements of our teens. Club members who earn the Youth of the Year title embody the values of leadership, service, character and academic excellence. They exemplify the critical impact that Boys & Girls Clubs have on the lives of young people.

Each year, Grenville Baker Boys & Girls Club selects a member to be our Youth of the Year to represent the Club in competitions at the state, regional, and national level to receive scholarships and further recognition. Each candidate for this honor must submit an in-depth application and participate in a lengthy interview process conducted and evaluated by a committee of board, staff and community members. This spring the whole process is being conducted remotely, with a lot of extra effort by committee members, participants and staff. We so appreciate the determination and care that they have shown to maintain this important program.

This year, our Club's Youth of the Year is Jimmy Mejia. Jimmy is a senior at Locust Valley High School where he maintains an A average as a member of the Varsity Soccer Team, the Kendama Club, and the LVTV Club, while working part time for the Locust Valley Chamber of Commerce. At school, Jimmy leads by example, demonstrating commitment, creativity, and a strong sense of responsibility. Jimmy will be the first member of his family to go to college and will study film at Ithaca College this fall.

Jimmy joined Grenville Baker Boys & Girls Club when he was in the first grade. As an active member for twelve years, he has participated in many of the Club's programs including College Prep, City Club and Money Matters. Last spring, Jimmy helped organize the Club's National Keystone project called VibeZZZ, a wellness fair that worked to create a stress-free environment for teens to relax from the pressures of school work, family issues and other struggles. As this year's President of the Keystone Club, Grenville Baker's community service and leadership organization, Jimmy's goal has been for every Club kid to feel accepted for who they are and to enjoy a safe space, free from bullying.

I know I speak for our entire Club, staff and members alike, in saying that Jimmy is an exceptional young man and we are so proud to have him represent us this year in Albany and beyond as our Club's Youth of the Year.

Club members who earn the Youth of the Year title embody the values of leadership, service, character and academic excellence. They exemplify the critical impact that Boys & Girls Clubs have on the lives of young people.

Each year, Grenville Baker Boys & Girls Club selects a member to be our Youth of the Year to represent the Club in competitions at the state, regional, and national level to receive scholarships and further recognition. Each candidate for this honor must submit an in-depth application and participate in a lengthy interview process conducted and evaluated by a committee of board, staff and community members. This spring the whole process is being conducted remotely, with a lot of extra effort by committee members, participants and staff. We so appreciate the determination and care that they have shown to maintain this important program.

This year, our Club's Youth of the Year is Jimmy Mejia. Jimmy is a senior at Locust Valley High School where he maintains an A average as a member of the Varsity Soccer Team, the Kendama Club, and the LVTV Club, while working part time for the Locust Valley Chamber of Commerce. At school, Jimmy leads by example, demonstrating commitment, creativity, and a strong sense of responsibility. Jimmy will be the first member of his family to go to college and will study film at Ithaca College this fall.

Jimmy joined Grenville Baker Boys & Girls Club when he was in the first grade. As an active member for twelve years, he has participated in many of the Club's programs including College Prep, City Club and Money Matters. Last spring, Jimmy helped organize the Club's National Keystone project called Vibezzz, a wellness fair that worked to create a stress-free environment for teens to relax from the pressures of school work, family issues and other struggles. As this year's President of the Keystone Club, Grenville Baker's community service and leadership organization, Jimmy's goal has been for every Club kid to feel accepted for who they are and to enjoy a safe space, free from bullying.

I know I speak for our entire Club, staff and members alike, in saying that Jimmy is an exceptional young man and we are so proud to have him represent us this year in Albany and beyond as our Club's Youth of the Year.

HOWE, Margaret Hamilton died April 1, 2020 at her home in Locust Valley, New York. She was 89 years old.

Born on November 7, 1930 to Jesse Lawson Hamilton and William Glennie Hamilton, Margaret Elisabeth Hamilton was raised in Truro, Nova Scotia, Canada along with her younger sisters, Kathryn, Irene and Anne. She attended Arcadia University and went on to the School of Nursing at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, MA where she met Peter Paul Luce, son of Time Inc founder, Henry R Luce. They married in 1951 and moved to the North Shore of Long Island. Busy raising their four daughters, Meredith, Lisa, Christie and Clare, Margie was an active member of the Junior League of Long Island and school parent at East Woods School in Oyster Bay.

After Margie & Peter divorced in 1964, she moved to Cold Spring Harbor marrying Boughton "Tony" Cobb, Jr three years later. Tony also had four daughters, Catlin, Cyne, Lisa and Cathy. Tony was a technical advisor and writer on marine construction at Owens Corning for 20 years before moving to Chris Craft Industries. He also wrote a regular column for Yachting Magazine.

Ever the energetic volunteer, Margie joined a pair of theatrical friends in the community to create original musicals to raise money and awareness for Multiple Sclerosis which afflicted one of their close friends. Locals of all ages and talents participated in the productions which were irreverent and lively and always sold out.

Those theatrical efforts lead to becoming a co-founder of The Yellow Cote Players; a combination of East Woods alumnae, parents and locals who enjoyed performing both original works as well as Broadway productions at the school. Margie contributed her irreverent sense of humor and countless hours to all aspects of the productions from choreography to designing and painting sets.

In 1975, Margie and a few friends pooled their creative interests and opened Gilliewrinkles, a gift shop on Main Street in Cold Spring Harbor. Each partner shared in the discovery and procuring of unique items from artisanal chocolates to decorative objects. In 1978 Gilliewrinkles joined the Champagne Trail, a Junior League organization that traveled the country selling their wares to support local hospitals.

Throughout her marriage to Tony and for years following his death in 1975, Margie served on the board of the Cold Spring Harbor Beach Club; holding the position of President from 1980 to 1987. In 1980 Margie married Ralph Elliot Howe III who had two daughters Avery and Cee Cee Howe. They divorced in 1983.

Margie left a broad and indelible mark on her community whether it was through her interior design business, Flourishes, or her endlessly creative event planning for friends, clubs and charitable organizations. She joined the board of Save the Children at its inception in 1984 and helped raise funds creating clever themes for galas. In 2015 Save the Children honored Margie at a luncheon acknowledging her years of dedication. She held an honorary position on the board of Save the Children until her death.

In 1997, she joined the board of the Caumsett Foundation, bringing her magic, creativity and tireless energy to their annual fundraising events. She galvanized her fellow volunteers and worked side by side with them no matter how arduous the tasks. On one occasion, at the age of 77, she fell off a ladder and realizing she'd broken her wrist, drove herself to the Emergency Room, only to return an hour later in a cast with absolutely no intention of suspending her decorating activities. Margie served on the Caumsett Foundation Board throughout, moving to an honorary position in 2018.

Margie is predeceased by her daughter Elisabeth Luce Hagenbuch and is survived by her sisters; Kathryn Smith of Thunder Bay, Ontario, Irene Wright of Truro, Nova Scotia and Anne Hamilton of Montreal. Her daughters, Meredith Hamilton Luce of Savannah, GA, Christena Luce McNicol of Mill Neck, New York and Clare Luce Abbey of St Helena, CA and West Palm Beach, FL. Her grandchildren; Henry, Hunter & Hilary Hagenbuch, Campbell McNicol Mumford and Lindsay Hotz Billingsly and her great grandsons; Brooks, Beau and Archer Hagenbuch.

A memorial is being planned for later in the year. In lieu of flowers please support Save the Children or the Caumsett Foundation in Margie's memory.
